10 Artists to Watch This January

By Artspace Editors

JAN. 4, 2017

A.K. BURNS

New Museum, January 18 – April 23

An artist whose work builds from a baseline of feminist and queer politics, A.K. Burns is one of those people who seem to have more hours in the day than twenty four. In addition to Burns's prolific sculptural and video work, the self-proclaimed "compulsive collaborator" co-founded W.A.G.E. (Working Artists and the Greater Economy), an important advocacy group for fair economic practices in the arts, co-founded Randy, an annual trans-feminist art magazine, and is a member of LTTR, a feminist genderqueer artist collective with an annual journal, performance series, and screenings. Burns will occupy the New Museum's fifth floor as the Spring R&D artist-in-residence, and will present an "in-process, video-based installation that reworks the subject—and thereby subjugation—of the body."
